

DST at the 62nd Annual Conference of Metallurgists (COM)

During the 62nd Annual Conference of Metallurgists (COM) which took place in Toronto between August 21-24, Percy Zambrano, Project Manager and Senior Metallurgist at DST, presented a paper titled "Design and Engineering of new technologies in refractory gold extraction: An example from an Arsenopyritic Ore", written by himself, Olivier Sanfaçon, Jean Tardif and Jean-Philippe Mai.

The presentation was a great opportunity to highlight the benefits and added value of using DST's CLEVR and GlassLock processes.
