

DST at the International Metals Symposium 2025

On November 30th and December 1st, 2025, the latest edition of the International Metals Symposium was held in London, UK. Our President & CEO, Jean-Philippe Mai, attended this event organized by The Northern Miner.

During the event, he was on stage with Adrian Pocobelli, Podcast Host at TNM, as a featured speaker for a fireside chat.

Mr. Mai also spoke with Mr. Pocobelli in a separate short interview during which the discussion focused on DST and how the mining industry can benefit from our processes, CLEVR (cyanide-free gold extraction) and GlassLock (arsenic stabilization).

Videos of the panels and interview are available on The Northern Miner's website (as well as MINING.com and the Canadian Mining Journal):
